

Reyes Title Services... your ally in getting your deals closed!

By: Carlos J. Reyes

Realtors are the backbone of South Florida's real estate market. You invest time and effort in education, spend hours making calls for listings, or helping clients find the right property, and despite the internet, place countless miles on your car searching for the right property.

Would be buyers similarly spend weeks and months searching and looking for the right property to turn into their "home" or the right "investment." Buyers and realtors both look for and count on the title services needed to successfully close their transactions. Coupled with the changes made to the closing process by the federal government (via the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau or CFPB), the obvious is obvious – who handles your closing does matter!

Real property can be complicated, raise special issues and problems not commonly understood, and if mistakes are made, can be unforgiving. With over 30 years of experience, the Reyes Title Services Team makes an important difference when negotiating contracts, processing contracts, conducting due diligence, closing transactions and protecting the rights of our clients! And since buying a home or commercial property is generally the largest and most significant purchase a buyer makes, don't settle for less!

Our team prides itself in delivering quality title and legal work, solid legal advice, informative communication between all parties and stellar client service. Having professional, pragmatic, and practical experience on your side will protect your legal rights, save you money and avoid heartache. Here at the Reyes Law Group's Reyes Title Services, our aim is to "take charge" of the transaction and orchestrate the real estate process to a successful closing. This means our team approaches each transaction from the perspective that the parties – all parties – are counting on us – to coordinate the details necessary to assure we get to the closing on time! In turn, this allows the parties to de-stress and do what they do best, realtors go on to promote and show more properties (and hopefully line up more deals to close), and buyers to work on and handle the variety of pre-closing tasks needed to close the transaction.

At Reyes Title Services, we are the title services of "first-choice" for our valued clients, investors, realtors, brokers, and referral sources, passionately representing their interests, and earning their trust transaction-by-transaction. Let us be your "first choice" and ally in getting your next transaction closed on time!
